Introduction

Learn what journal editors and reviewers are looking for; how to title your paper and include key words to ensure maximum discoverability; what to expect during the peer review process and revision stages; how to promote your work once it is published; and more. Handouts in Spanish and English.

Aim

To explain the process of publishing in scientific journals so that attendees can have confidence when submitting or reviewing research for publication.

Organization of the course

The course will mostly be through lecture (including slides) and open discussion.

Themes

We will be speaking from our perspective as U.S. publishers (BSA is a Society-owned journal), but the information will be universal to whatever journal the attendees choose to publish in.
